NO CLEW FOUND IN CAIRO MURDER ON PADUCAH CASE

Slayer of James White Supposed to Be Hiding In The Woods.

Frank McManus Mystery Remains Unsolved.

A CHICAGO LAKE MYSTERY

Although the authorities for a wide radius around Cairo and Paducah are searching for him, James M. White, of Cairo, alleged slayer of Fred Otterson, of Paducah, is still at large. He is believed to be in hiding in the woods. Otterson was shot and killed in Cairo Saturday night after White is alleged to have knocked him down with the butt-end of his revolver. Otterson was a brother of Mrs. Emma Sutherland, of 1014 Lincoln avenue, this city.

McManus Case.

Not a sign of clew in the murder mystery of Frank McManus, which took place on the night of September 29, at his home, 811 South Sixth street, has been run across and the police are still groping about in darkness. In spite of a court of inquiry held last week, the police have arrived no nearer a solution than at the start.

Family Says It Is Murder.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—The body of Walters B. Coles, president of the Keefe-Coles Printing company, was found floating in the lake today. He had been missing since October 3. A great gash was found on Coles' head and his eyes were discolored. The family believes Coles was murdered. Police believe there were made by rocks along the shore.

Hal Sullivan Funeral

The funeral services of Hal A. Sullivan, who died yesterday morning from injuries received in a collision with an automobile October 1, were held at 10 o'clock this morning at the residence of his father-in-law, T. B. Owen, 1436 Trimble street. The Rev. G. W. Banks, pastor of the Fountain Avenue Methodist church, officiated, and the funeral was in charge of the Owens lodge, of which he was a member. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Muir Givens, William Woodworth, Harry King, Marvin Langston, Silas Mitchell, Jr., and Edward Pettit.

Funeral of Irene Council.

The funeral of Irene Council, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Council, of St. John's, was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. T. B. Rouse officiating. Burial was in Mt. Kenton cemetery.

Funeral of Emily Peyton.

The funeral of little Emily Peyton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Peyton, 325 Fountain avenue, was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. H. W. Burwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

PERSONAL WORKERS ARE TOLD ABOUT CHILDREN

The Rev. W. S. Jacoby's lecture to his class of personal workers this morning at the auditorium rank was a continuation of his subject of yesterday, "How To Deal With Children." This morning he showed that Jesus came to seek and save the lost and when one comes to Him, He forgives all of the past; when we receive Him, we become His children. Mr. Jacoby also told how to teach children to meet temptation as well as to take care of them. He told that the children must be fed on the word of God to grow up as Christians. Prayer, he said, was a means of talking with God in order that we can tell Him our wants. It is bound to help us to grow, he said.

CAPTAIN KOGER RETURNS FROM SOLDIERS' REUNION.

Capt. James Koger, vice president of the St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet company, returned home last night after attending the Confederate state reunion at Franklin, Tenn., yesterday. Captain Koger was the only veteran from Paducah to attend the reunion. Over 3,000 people attended and the ceremonies were impressive.

Death and Destruction Carried to Fishing Villages Along Coast of British Isles Last Evening

Hundreds of Fishermen Are Dead and Ships Lost—Tidal Wave on Gulf—French Steamer Sinks.

London, Oct. 14.—Already 100 persons are said to have perished in a ship wreck that lined the English and Irish coasts, and the death of many more is expected to swell the number. The storm is increasing in violence. Numerous fishing smacks are missing. Big vessels have been driven ashore.

Mazaire, France, Oct. 14.—Twenty-three lives were lost in a collision between the steamers Deverill and Villa Rochefort off this port this afternoon. The Villa Rochefort was cut almost in two, and sank with her crew.

Galveston, Texas, Oct. 14.—Reports of a tidal wave along the Mexican gulf coast are brought here today by the steamer Disa from Frontera. All the lowlands back of the coast are said to be flooded and the property damaged. No deaths are reported.

Suit Again Bercia.

Richmond, Ky., Oct. 14.—(Special)—The auditor's agent has filed suit against Bercia college for $8,000 back taxes.

Situation At I. C. Shops Unchanged

Few developments in the Illinois Central shop situation were manifest today to indicate either a restoration of peace or a continuation of the deadlock. Superintendent of Machinery Bell this afternoon invited a committee from all the unions, excepting the carmen to call at his car to talk over something besides the question of grievances. The union men say this is not a strike, but all, acting concertedly as individuals, asserted their right to inform the foremen of their intention to lay off and did so.

The following statements from both sides were given to the press: The men demand the removal of Quincy Wallace, a car department foreman.

The Railroad's Side.

The following statements were given out to the press by railroad officials: A. H. Egan, superintendent of the Louisville division:

"The entire matter was never brought to my attention by those holding their alleged grievance. It appears that Leonard Phelps secured permission to be absent from his duties for two or three days, desiring to attend a Baptist church meeting at Kevil during that time. The general foreman asked his assistant who should receive the temporary position and he was given two names—one of these was F. A. Milliken, the other an older man in the service, but who refused the offer as soon as it was tendered to him, declaring that he was already receiving a higher wage rate than that accorded by the temporary position. Of course, Milliken then received the position and the car men, inspired by an alleged grievance against Milliken, waited on the general foreman and told him that Milliken was not entitled to the position, and asked that it be given to a man named Moore. Moore was also receiving more than the temporary position would pay and the master mechanic refused to make the change, principally because of the temporary character of the vacancy.

"The men then, without taking the matter up in the proper way, left their work. The other trades, to sustain their fellows, also left their work—all of which was in violation of the various contracts we have with the existing local unions.

"This is the gist of the entire disturbance, and it is very apparent that the error has been on the part of the employees. The company always has, and will continue to select its officers, but in so doing it will select them from the ranks, and never question whether or not the man belongs to any union organization."

R. W. Bell, of Chicago, superintendent of machinery:

"The stoppage of work by the workmen employed in the Illinois Central shops at this place was ill advised and premature. The Illinois Central is recognized all over the country as one of the most liberal corporations in its dealings with its employees. It has contracts with all classes of its skilled labor and has the reputation of living up faithfully to these contracts. The company recognizes the fact that the contract is a protection for its interests and

EPISCOPAL NAME DEBATE SUBJECT

PURPOSE IS TO GATHER INTO IT ALL EUROPEAN PROTESTANTS.

Cincinnati, Oct. 14.—The question of changing the name of the Protestant Episcopal church was debated again today by the Episcopal house of deputies at the convention. The debate revealed the purpose as being to place the Episcopal church in position to gather all others in European countries against the Roman Catholic church.

Mr. Naylor's Farewell Sermon. The Rev. W. J. Naylor, who is pastor of the Paducah circuit of Methodist churches, will preach his last morning sermon at the Lone Oak Methodist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. His subject will be "The Church." The Rev. Mr. Naylor has been on the Paducah circuit for four years and at the conference this fall will be changed to another charge. In the afternoon he will preach at Massac.

DOCTORS MEET AT BARDWELL, KY., FOR AUTUMN SESSION

Southwestern Kentucky Medical Association Convened October 25.

Interesting Program For Discussion.

PADUCAH MAN IS PRESIDENT

Programs were issued today for the fortieth semi-annual session of the Southwestern Kentucky Medical association, which will meet in Bardwell October 25 for a one day's session. The program is one of the best ever compiled for the physicians and a profitable day is expected at the meeting. For several weeks, Dr. H. G. Reynolds, the secretary of the association, has been busy arranging the program, and has just completed his work of mailing the programs to the members.

The annual meeting of the physicians is held in Paducah every year in the spring, and in the autumn a semi-annual session is held at some town in western Kentucky. As Bardwell is easily accessible it is expected that there will be a large attendance for the one day's meeting. The physicians and surgeons from Paducah will leave at 6:30 o'clock on the day of the meeting, and will return that night at 8 o'clock.

The program is:

Two Candidates Probably Will Be Nominated By Democrats In Third Senatorial District—Two Calls

Keys, of Calloway, Calls Committee Together and Two of Four Members Will Heed Him—Chrisman Acts.

Murray, Ky., Oct. 14.—(Special)—Like Banquo's ghost the Democratic split in Calloway county, which through two generations has developed into a feud, will not down, despite the decision of the congressional committee and the repudiation of his decision by the voters, who overturned a Democratic majority of 1,600 for a Republican majority of over one hundred. It has now crept into the Third senatorial district situation, and the Calloway Gazette of this week contains two announcements, each purporting to speak for the chairman of the Third district senatorial committee. N. L. Chrisman, who stirred up a sensation at Murray September 20, by declaring the committee members from Lyon and Trigg counties constructively present, and with the proxy from Livingston county in his pocket, held a session and called a senatorial convention at Eddyville, November 17, publishes the official call for the convention, while J. H. Keys, who was turned down by W. A. Berry, congressional committee man, for chairman of Calloway county, publishes a call for a senatorial committee meeting at Eddyville, October 22. It is presumed that Committee man Doom, of Lyon, and Committee man Broadbent, of Trigg, are cognizant of and consenting to his action. The Livingston county member, who gave his proxy to Chrisman, is expected to stand by it, thus dividing the committee evenly.

Republicans Jubilant. Republicans in the Third district are jubilant, knowing that if they can carry Calloway county in the senatorial election as they did in the county election, they can carry the district. County Judge Patterson, of Calloway, is an announced candidate, and former Postmaster Dave Redden is thinking of running. However, the sentiment, heretofore, has been in favor of some politically independent man from outside Calloway county.

The Democratic situation is involved and bitter. Before the last county election there was a split and the faction headed by Conn Linn, state senator, won on appeal to Congressional Committee man W. A. Berry, of Paducah. The decision was not popular, and although that faction controlled the committee and named the candidate, the Republicans for the first time carried the county.

Things quieted down then until Henry Lawrence, editor of the Cadiz Record, and former Senator McCrory's strongest advocate in western Kentucky, is a member of the state committee, where his vote will be useful to McCrory on all questions. He is also a candidate for state senator to succeed Conn Linn, the understanding being that he is to become president pro tem, if McCrory controls the legislature. The senatorial election will not take place until November 1911, but the anti-McCrory faction in the First congressional district saw in an early primary or convention a chance to force Lawrence off the state ticket by making him a candidate for the nomination. Consequently, Chairman N. L. Chrisman, of Calloway, who is chairman of the senatorial committee, by virtue of representing the largest county, called the committee together to select a time, place and manner of naming a candidate for state senator. On account of the absence of Lawrence, the first meeting at Eddyville was postponed and another was called at Murray. The committee members from Lyon and Trigg, who favor Lawrence and a late nomination, went to the town, but when they learned that Chrisman followed them and found them at the hotel, and while they went through a door, locking it after them, he proceeded to organize a meeting as if they were present, making and seconding the motions himself, putting them and voting on them for himself and the proxy from Trigg, counting the other two as present and not voting. He acted on a decision of W. A. Berry that committee men, once being counted present, could not withdraw and break a quorum. It is said that Chrisman had the records of this meeting all prepared in advance and the resolutions had been written out in Paducah and taken to Murray, in anticipation of just a situation.

Claim of Keys. However that may be, both sides repaired by the first train to Paducah, but no appeal was made to Chairman Berry. The next development was a renewal of the claim of J. H. Keys that he is chairman of Calloway county, and therefore,

NOT HIS AUTO. Mr. John W. Keeler, at whose automobile it was reported yesterday, the horse of Harry Carney frightened, stated today that it was not at his automobile, but at a Buick, the number of which he observed, that the horse frightened. He was several blocks away when the accident happened.

chairman of the senatorial committee. If he is so recognized by the committee men from Lyon and Trigg counties, in spite of Chairman Berry's decision that he is not, the situation will become as intense as it is complicated.

Henry Lawrence stated while in Paducah, that he will not recognize the action of Chrisman at Murray as at all binding, and will not enter any contest for the nomination under such a call.

From Murray comes the opinion that two Democratic candidates will be nominated for state senator in the Third district, unless pressure comes from the outside to stop all action and leave Lawrence alone. This is not probable, however, as the politicians are much more anxious to control the state committee than they are to effect party harmony in the district, and it is expected that they will persist in their fight on Lawrence by this means. On the other hand, the Keys faction in Calloway has shown its fighting spirit, and when the congressional committee men decided against them, they appealed to the people of the county and were sustained in the defeat of the Democratic nominees of the successful faction.

NEW YORK SENATOR BRIBERY CHARGE

RESULTS IN INDICTMENT AGAINST GARDNER IN FOERKER CASE.

New York, Oct. 14.—A grand jury this afternoon returned indictments against former State Senator Frank J. Gardner, charging him with having offered to pay Congressman Otto Foerker, when a state senator, $25,000 if he would vote against the Hughes anti-gambling bill. Gardner is under arrest at Scranton, Pa.

Lajoie Charges Are Unfounded

BAN JOHNSON CONCLUDES HIS INVESTIGATION OF THE AFFAIR TODAY.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—After being closeted with Third Baseman Corriden, of the St. Louis Browns, for several hours today, President Ban Johnson, of the American league, announced that his investigation of the Lajoie-Cobb batting contest episode was ended, with the exception of hearing the story of Manager Jack O'Connors. Johnson said he was satisfied the charges were unfounded.

ODD FELLOWS PLEASED WITH THEIR MEETING

A building permit has been granted in the office of City Engineer L. A. Washington for the erection of a large warehouse by the Indian Refining company, an oil concern that will compete with the Standard Oil company. Work upon the warehouse and sheds will begin soon, and it is expected that the company will be open for business in a short time. The warehouse will be located about 600 feet north of Trimble street on the Ohio river, and in a location at a safe distance away from other property. The site was approved by Fire Chief James Wood last week when a representative of the company was in the city. The large tanks that will be erected are already on the ground. The warehouse and sheds will cost $1,000.

FRANK MARRIAGE OF CONVENIENCE BY THIS HEIRESS

Mustachios, Celluloid Collar and Bamboo Cane Take Her Eye.

Weds to Win Legacy From Her Uncle.

ODD ANTE-NUPTIAL CONTRACT.

Washington, Oct. 14.—A sweeping, sandy mustache, a celluloid collar and a bamboo cane today won a temporary bride and a cash bonus of $200. Henry Oliver Brown, a building wrecker by profession, and a heart wrecker by confession, won the hand of Eugenia Adams, a German heiress, who advertised for a husband. The terms of her uncle's will required that she be married not later than this week. Hundreds of applicants were sifted down to ten. Miss Adams refused all others at once and Brown won. Brown agreed to part from his wife immediately after the ceremony, as she required. "I will not bother her," Brown said. "I am doing this just for the money."

INDIAN OIL COMPANY TO BUILD PLANT HERE

The delegates from Paducah who attended the session of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Kentucky at Lexington returned last evening. Those composing the party were: William Morgan, A. E. Stein, William Kinsey, H. L. Judd, C. B. Hatfield, R. L. Connor, J. M. Cockrill, B. F. Finnie and W. T. Goodman. A. E. Stein, who was appointed on the committee on proxies, was the only western Kentucky man recognized in the organization. C. B. Hatfield stood second in the race for grand warden, in which eleven candidates were entered, but withdrew after several ballots had been taken. He was re-nominated for the same office for next year, with the probability of election.

AMATEURS CONTEST FOR JUNIOR PRIZES TODAY

New Orleans, Oct. 14.—More than 200 contenders for junior titles competed today in the opening event of the field day and track championship of the national amateur athletic union. National President James Sullivan declares this is the largest meet since 1888. Southern and western juniors are pitted against the strong teams of the Irish-American association, New York Athletic club, Chicago Athletic club and Philadelphia Athletic club. World's champions in every division of sport will compete tomorrow in the senior championship.

TOBACCO ASSOCIATION OFFICIALS STOP OVER

Felix G. Ewing, of Glenn Raven, Ky., general manager of the Planters' Protective association, in company with J. M. Couts, division manager, of Springfield, Tenn., were in Paducah for a short time this morning. They were on their way home from Martin, Tenn., and Mayfield, where they completed arrangements for the storing and prizing of the 1910 crop of tobacco. Their stop-over here was merely for a social visit to local association men. Some time ago the association closed a contract with M. M. Tucker to take care of the storing and prizing of the 1910 crop at Paducah. He was in charge of this during the past season and has made an enviable record. Messrs. Ewing and Couts returned home this morning.

HELPER IN ROUND HOUSE SEES ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

Suit for $10,000 damages for alleged personal injuries, was filed today by Attorney T. N. Hazelp for S. J. Powers against the Illinois Central railroad. Powers alleges that he was employed as helper in the round house and that the railroad failed to furnish him with a safe place to work. Under orders of a foreman he alleges that he went around an engine and struck a sharp pointed bar in the dark, and that he is permanently injured as a result.

AT THE KENTUCKY.
Saturday, Oct. 15—"The Fighting Parson."
Tuesday, Oct. 18—Al H. Wilson in "Metz in Ireland."
Wednesday, Oct. 19—Blanch Walsh in "The Other Woman."
Friday, Oct. 21—"Polly of the Circus."
Saturday, Oct. 22, (Matinee and Night)—"The Girl From Rector's."
Metz Wilson at The Kentucky.
Al H. Wilson, the German dialect comedian, will bring his latest success, "Metz in Ireland," to The Kentucky Tuesday night. This information will no doubt be interesting news to his many admirers in this city, who never miss the opportunity to witness a Wilson performance. The great secret of Mr. Wilson's success as an actor is that he is natural. He is so interested in the character he assumes that one forgets the individual and sees only "Metz," the rollicking and light-hearted German, who long since sang his way into public favor with his melodious voice. "Metz in Ireland" is an interesting story of the land of the Shamrock. In fact, it contains two stories, one full of the purest German and Irish comedy, and the other full of that romantic feeling wreathed by the Wilson songs. It is in this last story that Mr. Wilson sings "My Queen of Dreams," a sentimental song with a refrain that is sure to be whistled and hummed by all who hear it. He will also render "Erin's Isle," "The Banshee" and "The Nightingale Song."

The scenic sentiment is said to be elaborate. The first act is a reproduction of Dolan's torgel, a picturesque bit of scenery along the highway between Athlone and Kildare; the second act is an interior view of Klonikilly Castle, while the third act is a moonlight scene, an exterior view of Klonikilly Castle, with its surrounding park and lodge houses.

There could not be a complete Irish play unless it were replete with Celtic legends and fairy lore. This element is aptly introduced in "Metz in Ireland" with the assistance of outside forces of goblin winds, hooting birds and incantations to the spirits of the air. An able supporting company is promised, and the stage settings and electrical effects are said to lend additional interest to an otherwise interesting performance.

Al H. (Metz) Wilson.
Al H. Wilson, the German dialect comedian, is underlined for an engagement in this city on Tuesday night when he will be seen as Metz Klonikilly in "Metz in Ireland." There will be a complete change of songs provided by the start, noted among which is "My Queen of Dreams," which is creating such a furor with music lovers in general. Men whistle it and women hum it, while dozens buy the song from the man in the lobby as they leave the theater. It is attuned to the sweet spirit of romance contained in the story of the play, and its simple melody clings to the memory as the fragrance of heliotrope haunts the room that flowers have gladdened.

"Polly of the Circus."
Telling, as it does, the story of the odd romance of a pretty little circus rider and a village pastor in the Middle West, "Polly of the Circus" which will be presented at the Kentucky Friday night, is a drama as original as it is refreshing and is one of those rare plays that appeal to the "gallery gods" with the same force as to the occupants of orchestra chairs. Since this play was first produced, hundreds of thousands of persons have been moved from laughter to tears and to sheer joy in following the fortunes of the wistful girl, from which comes the title "Polly of the Circus," and her ministerial admirer. The reproduction of a circus in full swing in the third act is one of the greatest pieces of stage realism. Dainty Miss Ida St. Leon will be seen in the title role. The personnel of the supporting cast is an apparent assurance of a finished and artistic portrayal of the other characters. The scenic production is remarkable for one of such admitted unusual skill in such matters as Frederic Thompson. The third act setting, where an actual sawdust ring performance with all the incidents and accessories is shown, is especially notable.

Girl From Rector's.
"The Girl From Rector's" which played 340 nights at Weber's Music Hall, New York, holds every record there. Despite the fact the capacity of the house is considered small the receipts during its remarkable run ever ran less than $14,000 a week.

Clothes for Little Men

We want every parent to know about our ability, with expert service, to dress little men correctly.

Practically the entire second floor of this great institution is devoted to the outfitting of little fellows. Nearly every maker of boys' wear of note is represented in Weille's matchless exhibit for fall and winter. Also in this colossal department we carry satisfying stocks of furnishings and headwear for boys, all shown in the latest and most approved fashion, and priced in harmony with our plan of underselling.

Specializing Skolney's and Hackett, Carhart's fine clothing. Let us clothe your boy this season, then learn what real satisfaction means. Price range $3 to $15.

Daily Thought.

There is no sanctuary of virtue like home.—Edward Everett.

LET REASON PREVAIL.

In no situation does a newspaper find itself more delicately placed than in the one now confronting industrial Paducah—a walkout, that affects the old community—and in relation to which this paper owes the double duty to the public of keeping it informed in regard to the conditions and at the same time avoiding an aggravation of the situation. It sounds empty to declare The Evening Sun deplores any such a state of affairs: the public may take that for granted. We believe there is not a person in Paducah, who does not fervently hope for a speedy adjustment of any differences that exist at the Illinois Central shops. We do not anticipate any grave consequences; we would not by our very appeal for peace create the impression that the situation is worse than it is. We simply call upon all parties concerned in the interest of the public welfare to be reasonable, and un-influenced by pride or malice, and upon all others to abstain from agitating or aggravating conditions.

A PROFOUND OBSERVATION.

The editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat is an observant man, and if he will apply his inductive faculties to his observation, instead of flying irrelevantly off at a tangent, he and The Evening Sun and William Jennings Bryan will redeem this old nation from its evil ways, yet. Even the editor of the Tribune-Democrat may be surprised to see us place ourselves in harness with William Jennings Bryan, but The Sun is big enough to put political differences aside, when a man or a publication is on the right track, and just now William Jennings Bryan is traveling over the country in the interest of the one reform, which is the essential condition precedent to all effective reforms. But more of that later.

The particular observation of the editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat to which we direct attention is: The overthrowing of a political boss means that an other will rise on the ruins of the former, to eventually take his place. But it is a good idea to overthrow the fact, that another will arise to take his place, from the fact that the new one is less skilled in the art than an old one. The best remedy for this evil is for everybody to quit man worship.

No more profound observation of political conditions has ever been made than that "the overthrowing of a political boss means that another will rise on the ruins of the former, and eventually take his place"; but the Tribune-Democrat's remedy for this, to "quit man worship", is as irrelevant as the diagnosis is accurate; because the boss is more often the character of man, who is heartily detested in the community over which he rules.

An instance in point—of the observation, not the conclusion—was the Republican state convention in New York, when the "Old Guard" was dethroned by Theodore Roosevelt, who named the candidate, dictated the platform and selected the state chairman. That makes Mr. Roosevelt the boss, and a good boss, indeed, he is; but we don't want a boss, good or bad. Mr. Roosevelt's reign will be beneficent. We have no fear of corruption where he is concerned; but when he gives up control, some other boss, probably less concerned about the public weal, will take possession of the machine.

Barney has resigned from the state committee, and those reformers and insurgents, who sum up all political goodness in the person of Theodore Roosevelt are jubilant; but as the editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat profoundly observes, "the overthrowing of a political boss means that another will rise."

If that is so—and it is—let us take our brother editor gently by the hand and lead him into the path of relevancy and progress. If the "overthrowing of one political boss means that another will rise" under our present political system, then there is something wrong with the system. Isn't that quite clear?

Then what is the next step? Isn't it to ascertain what is wrong with the system, and when that is ascertained, TENN. DEMOCRATIC PRESS.

There is no doubt about it, we are going to have a campaign that will make for wisdom and patriotism and an intelligent understanding of the political issues. Of one thing we are sure, however, Bob Taylor is not going to care anything about the facts. He will make any sort of a charge or give expression to any kind of a statement if he thinks it will profit him. And when Bob is called down and his allegations disputed, he will go right on and repeat the same canard the next day.—Columbia Herald.

Bob Taylor's harmonious Hamite convention thought it improper to declare on the temperance question. Bob may be able to ride two different directions at the same time, but he'll never feel as well afterwards.—Johnson City Staff.

The control of the next legislature is the real bone of contention in this fight and we see no way of accomplishing that much desired end but by fighting it out under the agreement of supporting Capt. Hooper and B. A. Enloe. When this battle shall have been fought and won, then the Gazette will be ready to immediately take up the fight for a reunited party and Democratic supremacy in Tennessee.—Marshall Gazette.

We repeat that the situation is not changed and we would as soon vote for Patterson himself as to vote for one of his henchmen.—Athens Post.

Some of Senator Taylor's friends will follow him, but many of those who love him best condemn his look about for the remedy?

But first of all, we must inquire into a man's faith. Does the editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat believe in a government by the people? If he does, he must believe that what a majority of the people really want, when they understand it, is about right. Now, there is a great deal of misinformation about the will of the majority: like figures, which cannot lie, a seeming majority is misinterpreted. In order for the will of the majority to be expressed, adequate means for the expression of that will must be provided. As long as the majority of good people are divided by party names, and the combined interests of vicious elements form the deciding factor in politics, so long will our institutions fail to accurately record the will of the majority.

That is where our Benton contemporary flies off at a tangent. It is only "hero worship" that has saved us on occasions; because some popular figure has arisen to overthrow the evil boss; but that is not sufficient for independent souls like those of the editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat, William Jennings Bryan and himself. We want conditions under which the popular will may be expressed in the party organization without the intervention of the "good boss."

How can this be done?

By a popular primary conducted by the state, in which both parties participate, with their tickets printed on one ballot, so that no one knows in which primary any man votes. In that way the best citizens will hold the balance of power, casting their influence just as the vicious do now, in whichever contest the moral issues are most pronounced. At these primaries committeemen would be selected, and thus the whole machinery of party government would be placed directly in the hands of the people.

But hero worship, or "man worship", as our Benton friend puts it, would not cease. It would be more pronounced. The hero of the people would always win; but he would be a hero only as long as he remained the people's champion. This would stimulate all men seeking preferment in public life to be champions of the people. Would it not, Benton?

It's the boss, who is not a hero, to whom we object. Leaders we shall always have.

For the rest the initiative and referendum and the recall will suffice.

Join us, Benton, in demanding a restoration of the power of the people; in making parties and government responsive to the will of the majority. You have remarked the condition, help us apply the remedy.

STATE PRESS.

From the Editor's Heart.

It is said that John Denton, one of the county's most successful farmers, is seriously considering the purchase of an automobile. There are many farmers in Carlisle county who can well afford to own automobiles, and we can see where they are right in enjoying life while going through this vale of tears.—Carlisle News.

Mr. J. C. Story, one of our good farmer friends, of Route 6, brought some of the finest Irish potatoes to this office that we had ever seen before, three potatoes weighing three pounds and ten ounces. Mr. Story has a splendid farm and is a good farmer, and knows just how to produce the best of everything he raises.—Benton Tribune-Democrat.

There are some marksmen in the course and will vote against him. The die has been cast and the Independent Democrats will vote for Capt. Hooper on November 8.—Jackson Sun.

Bob Taylor, dressed up in Patterson's old togs, don't look a bit better to us than Patterson.—McMinnville Standard.

The candidacy of Bob Taylor, no matter what people may think of him personally, is not going to deceive anybody. He is not entitled to the support of the men who downed the opposition in August. The die is cast, and Mr. Hooper, an energetic young man of fine business qualifications, a young man who has it in mind to make a good governor, regardless of party considerations, will be elected.—Bristol News.

Senator Robt. L. Taylor, the nominee of the "harmony" convention, is but little, if any, improvement over the nominee of the June primary and convention, Gov. M. R. Patterson, who was forced to retire. In some respects the nomination of Gov. Patterson was preferable to that of Senator Taylor. Gov. Patterson is much the abler man of the two, and pronounced in his views, which he boldly advocated. One can but admire one who has the courage to advocate his honest views, although he may not agree with him. But no man can admire a straddler, with no convictions which he is willing to boldly advocate, and such a man is Senator Taylor.—Marshall Gazette.

FOOTBALL BATTLE

FIRST CONTEST TO DECIDE HIGH SCHOOL RACE. Madisonville Comes Here for Game

Tomorrow with Paducah High.

The first battle to decide the High school football championship of Western Kentucky will be held tomorrow between the Paducah and Madisonville High school teams at League park. Owing to the keen rivalry existing between the two teams the game promises to be one of the best of the season. Both coaches have drilled their teams to a fine point. Play will be called at 3 o'clock.

The Madisonville players, accompanied by a band of rosters will arrive tonight at 6:10 o'clock, and will be ready for the fray tomorrow. A large attendance is expected at the game tomorrow. Tomorrow evening at the High school building an informal reception will be tendered the visitors and football boys by the students and faculty of the High school.

The rivalry at the game promises to be as keen as the rooting at the oratorical contest and all the alumni and friends of High school are expected to see the opening of the championship series. So far this season the record of the High school players is perfect.

High school, will line up: Mitchell, le; Elliott, lt; Jones, lg; J. Harth, c; King, rg; I. Browning, rt; D. Humphreys, re; P. Harth, qb; Yarbrough or Ogilvie, rb; W. Browning, captain, lb; and Hughes, fb.

TOLD SECRET TO HER FRIENDS

Sad Experience of Miss Brown, in Hanging Limb, Before She Knew Cardui.

Hanging Limb, Tenn.—"I told all my friends," says Miss Ethel Brown, of this place, "that my present good health was entirely due to Cardui. For several years, I had suffered with troubles peculiar to women—long weakening spells, nervousness, etc.—and my condition was often very serious. Since I took Cardui, I feel better in every way, and grow stronger daily."

The strength-giving properties of Cardui, the woman's tonic, are not due to powerful drugs, but to its gentle, natural, building action. Cardui is not a stimulant, but a mild and effective tonic for women, that through 50 years of success, has proven its merit.

Being prepared principally from the extracted medicinal principle of a plant grown in Europe, imported direct by the manufacturers, and combined with other ingredients to form a scientific remedy, Cardui brings results, different from other medicines.

If you suffer from any form of womanly weakness or irregularity, try Cardui. It helps nature to perform a cure in a natural, easy manner.

In every community, there are those who have been benefited by Cardui. Have you tried it? If not, do so, today.

Ky., was in the city yesterday on business.

Postmaster and Mrs. Frank M. Fisher are expected to return tomorrow from the White mountains, Boston, New York, and Richmond, Va.

BEFORE TEACHERS

PUBLIC OFFICIALS WILL DELIVER LECTURES.

W. H. Leavitt Talked to Them About the Public Schools of France.

The monthly meeting of the public school teachers was held this afternoon at the High school building, at 2 o'clock Mr. W. H. Leavitt, the distinguished American artist delivered an address to the teachers on "Schools of France." After the address, which was a clear discussion of the schools of France, the regular work was taken up. This year the teachers are studying "The Community and the Citizen," which is a book relating to civil government. Superintendent J. A. Carnegie is working upon the plan of having a representative from each department of the government address the teachers at the meetings throughout the year. Circuit Judge William Reed has consented to deliver a talk on the judiciary, while Col. John K. Hendrick, a former congressman, will explain the workings of congress. Other men will be asked to speak on county, city and federal government.

This morning at opening exercises of the High school, Mr. W. H. Leavitt addressed the students on "The Making of a Large Canvas," which was an instructive talk on the work of the artists in the execution of their large paintings.

The Railroad's Side.

The interests of the great body of men whom it employs. These contracts are made between the general officers of the company and the committees representing the different crafts, and require the workmen to appeal their grievances to the general officers for final adjustment before stopping work.

"In this stoppage of work the general officers have not been appealed to for a ruling on the points of difference between the local management and the workmen; therefore, there has been a violation and ignoring of these contracts by the workmen in failing to appeal to the general officers for final decision. We have great faith in the good judgment of the large body of men who are involved in this trouble and we are sure that when they reflect on the course they have taken and their other judgment prevails, that they will return to work."

J. M. Barrowdale, of Chicago, superintendent of the car department:

"The Illinois Central railroad has not yet received any notification from the men who walked out yesterday morning advising it just what grievances are held against the road. As an official of the company, I am absolutely unable to ascertain what their demands will be, why the walk-out was ordered, or, in fact, any of the details leading up to the disturbance. I am positive, however, that the differences, if any there be, will all be straightened out in a very few hours after a conference of the two factions."

warned by the committee of the feeling of the men; but he stated that it did not make any difference, that he could do nothing.

"The committee informed him that all it could do was to report back to the men and it would not be responsible for the action of the men. They reported back and the men called a meeting on Goebel avenue, off the company's premises, and decided that they would all lay off and hold a meeting at 2 o'clock at the Central Labor hall, and there by unanimous action they decided not to work until Q. P. Wallace and F. A. Milliken were removed from official capacity."

"Mr. Walker, master mechanic, refused to meet the general committee and stated that he had orders not to meet them; that if they wanted to do business that they would have to do it with Mr. Bell. The general committee notified Mr. Walker to get Mr. Bell as soon as possible and that he could not get him too quick for the company interest. So the general committee held a meeting on Thursday morning at the shops and decided that the men should lay off until the company saw fit to recognize this general committee and since that time this general committee has been ready and willing to meet with the local as well as higher officials but have not been able to do so.

"The officials have offered to meet each committee separately but this whole matter has been placed in the hands of the general committee, the different organizations have left the matter entirely in the hands of the general committee for adjustment. It seems that the railroad company does not want to recognize this general committee; therefore there is a halt in negotiations. As for the men violating their contracts, there has been no violation on the part of the men. As for the sanction of the grand lodge officers, they have all, as far as have been heard from, sanctioned the move of the men."

"This general committee is composed of five representatives of the general trades: Ed. Franko, chairman; H. S. Kelley, temporary secretary-treasurer; B. B. Cleary, vice-chairman. This board is composed of five members of each regular shop trade, and the general grievance committee is composed of Ed. Franko, of the boilermakers; H. S. Kelley, of the machinists; B. B. Cleary, of the blacksmiths; and J. F. McCreery, of the carmen."

Mrs. George Warfield and Miss Roselle Warfield will leave tomorrow morning for Chattanooga, Tenn., to visit Misses Ruth and Edith Warfield.

Anyone Can Lay Regal Roofing

A hammer and knife—the only tools necessary. Complete instructions, fully illustrated, packed in each roll. And they are so simple that anyone can produce a perfectly water-tight roof. Special large headed galvanized nails—avoid the necessity of unsightly tin caps, which quickly rust and cause leaks. J-M REGAL ROOFING, when properly applied, will outwear any other roofing of its class, and it gives the best roof at the lowest cost. J-M REGAL ROOFING is the outcome of more than 50 years' experience in manufacturing roofing materials. It represents the result of a half century of experience and a constant endeavor to produce a really high grade roofing at a low grade price. While not the lowest in cost, it contains more real value than any other manufacturer can produce for the price.

The base of J-M REGAL ROOFING is genuine J-M TRINIDAD LAKE ASPHALT—the most durable water-proofing material known. As Trinidad Lake Asphalt has been used for 30 years for street paving, it is well adapted for roofing, where the conditions are far less severe. Call and examine this roofing—let us give you samples and interesting booklets of information.

A Striking Illustration.

A Scottish parson, remarkable for the simple force of his pulpit style, was enlarging one Sunday upon the text, "Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish."

"Yes, my friends," urged he with solemn earnestness, "unless ye repent ye shall as surely perish," deftly placing his left forefinger on the wing of a bluebottle that had just alighted upon the reading desk of the while the parson's right hand was uplifted—"just as surely, as, my friends, I flatten this poor fly."

But before the threatened blow descended the fly got away, whereupon the minister further "improved the occasion" with ready wit, exclaiming: "There's a chance for ye yet, my friends."—London Scraps.

Collection for Pope Pius X.

On Sunday next, October 16th, a collection will be taken up at all the masses in St. Francis de Sales church, Paducah, for Pope Pius X. The letter ordering this collection is published in this week issue of the "Record." Bishop O'Donoghue's official paper. It reads:

"By order of the Right Reverend Bishop a collection will be taken up in all the churches of the Diocese, and, at all the Masses on Sunday, October 16th, 1910. This collection is the offering of the Diocese to Our Holy Father, and it is to be hoped that it will be a generous one. "Pastors will please announce this collection at all the Masses on Sunday, October 9th, and make returns of same to the undersigned as soon as possible after the 16th, so that the entire. Diocesan collection may be sent at once to the Holy Father. "By order of the Rt. Rev. Bishop. "J. P. CRONIN, V. G.

MATHEWSON FANS OUT THE YANKEES

FOURTEEN AMERICANS GO DOWN BEFORE HIM.

Russell Ford Went Well Until Sixth—
"Big Six" and Hid Fadeaway Too Much.

SWEENEY IS OUT OF SERIES.

New York, Oct. 14.—The New York Nationals overcame their opponents, the American team, in the first game of the post-season series, winning a tense contest by a score of 5 to 1. In a pitchers' duel between Christy Mathewson and Russell Ford, who has been the sensation of the American League this season, the Giant hurler overshadowed his rival. Mathewson struck out 14 men, which equals the American league record and exceeds the National league record for this season. The present series is the first ever held between the two New York clubs, and thousands of partisans of the teams witnessed the contest. Mathewson's box art has rarely ever been equalled in any game in New York.

Matty Good in Pinches.

When the Americans perched on the bases and threatened to score Mathewson was at his best, fanning the batsmen with a high, fast ball and a fadeaway. Ford pitched scintillating ball, striking out nine of the Nationals and holding them well in hand with his so-called "mystery ball," until the Americans' defense weakened in the eighth inning and four runners on hard hitting crossed the home plate. Ford struck out Snodgrass, the National's heavy hitter, every time he came to the plate. The Brush stadium creaked with thousands of admirers of both teams, and though partisanship was strong the best of feeling prevailed.

Merkle Boots Two.

The Americans were the first to break into the run column. Knight singled to left and, when caught off first, ran to third base on an overthrow by Merkle to left field. Merkle added to his unfortunate misplay by dropping Sweeney's fly, Knight scoring. Mathewson did not waver in the face of this support, and retired the side on strikes.

The American's runs looked larger and larger as the innings went by for both Ford and Mathewson were pitching masterful ball and it was not until the sixth inning that the Nationals chalked up their first tally. Devore laid down a perfect bunt, stole second and was sacrificed to third, whence he scored on Murray's Texas leaguer.

The defense of the Americans crumbled in the eighth inning, after Mathewson had surged a healthy single into right field. Devore attempted to sacrifice, but Ford misplayed the bunt and the National outfielder was safe.

Austin Makes a Foolie.

Then National admirers were in a frenzy of excitement. No one was out and Doyle laid down a bunt on which Hal Chase made a dazzling play by snapping the ball to Austin who dropped the throw, thus spoiling a chance for a force out. Ford uncorked a wild spit ball, which struck Bridwell on the leg, forcing in a run. Devlin, Merkle and Myers followed with sturdy hits, and three more runs came over the plate.

The Americans suffered a hard blow to their post-season hopes when Catcher Sweeney, who was carded to work in all the games, had his finger badly split by a foul tip in the third inning. Mitchell took his place.

Naps Win Second Game.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 14.—The second game of the series for the championship of Ohio between Cleveland and Cincinnati was won by the former, 5 to 3. Joss made his reappearance, pitching his first game since July 25. He was invincible until the sixth, when his arm grew weak and Cincinnati batted in two runs. He then retired in favor of Kaler, who was effective. Cleveland knocked Gaspar out of the box in the third inning. Fromme was also hit hard, but Burns, who finished, was effective, though wild. Cleveland scored the winning runs on hits by Easterly, Hohnhorst and Turner, and Altizer's error.

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weaknesses, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

Americans. The new champions hit the ball hard, but fast fielding by the All-Stars kept the score down. Milano and Speaker, of the All-Stars, and Hartsel and Collins did fine work with the bat. The teams will play at Washington tomorrow.

Lajoie Given Clean Bill.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Umpire Evans, of the American league has submitted a detailed report to President B. R. Johnson regarding the Lajoie incident at St. Louis Sunday.

President Johnson did not make his entire report public, but announced that Umpire Evans had given Lajoie an absolutely clean bill of health in relation to Lajoie's performance in securing a total of eight safe hits in a doubleheader game with the St. Louis team.

Evans, who officiated in the game, filed his report at the request of MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

"Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold by your druggist. Your druggist will return to you a bottle of this medicine if it does not benefit your heart."

"I had read something in the California papers by a western promoter who had tried to organize some sort of a barn-storming tour after the close of the season with a collection of National and American league players, but that the national commission had ruled against such an undertaking."

"Such tours invariably result in financial loss to the promoters, are demoralizing to the players and tend to disgust the public with the game."

"Since my arrival in New York I have learned that an attempt is being made to poison the public mind against the national commission for prohibiting such exhibitions and make it appear that the players' rights are in some way affected, and in a spirit of revenge some ambitious promoter is trying to organize a third major league. If it were simply a loss of money on the part of the promoters of such a scheme, no one would care; nor would it make much difference if a few misguided players should be caught in the act, but anything that tends to disrupt or disarrange the present splendid system of organized baseball is a detriment to the sport, and should be discouraged by everyone who has the best interests of the game at heart. There is no room for a third major league. There are not enough high-class players in the country to man a third league."

Johnson Will Investigate.

President Johnson. The report will be made public when the president has completed his personal investigation and is ready to announce his decision in the matter.

With the debate regarding Lajoie's performance becoming more heated daily, President Johnson is said to have offered a best solution of the matter for the returning of the automobile prize to the donor of the award.

That, in the league president's opinion, would bury the unpleasantness, but in order to reward the players just he same, he would have the average declared a tie and have the league present suitable prizes to both Cobb and Lajoie.

If the trouble assumes serious proportions it is quite probable that President Johnson will make an effort to carry through his move.

Spaulding Opposes.

New York, Oct. 14.—A. G. Spaulding was indignant when shown a clipping from a Chicago paper which quoted him as saying that he favored the entrance of another major league. After reading the article he issued a statement, in which he said:

"In a recent issue of a Chicago paper it is made to appear that I am endorsing the organization of a third major league. I cannot conceive of a greater misfortune that could befall the game than to have an attempt made to form a third major league."

"I had read something in the California papers by a western promoter who had tried to organize some sort of a barn-storming tour after the close of the season with a collection of National and American league players, but that the national commission had ruled against such an undertaking."

"Such tours invariably result in financial loss to the promoters, are demoralizing to the players and tend to disgust the public with the game."

"Since my arrival in New York I have learned that an attempt is being made to poison the public mind against the national commission for prohibiting such exhibitions and make it appear that the players' rights are in some way affected, and in a spirit of revenge some ambitious promoter is trying to organize a third major league. If it were simply a loss of money on the part of the promoters of such a scheme, no one would care; nor would it make much difference if a few misguided players should be caught in the act, but anything that tends to disrupt or disarrange the present splendid system of organized baseball is a detriment to the sport, and should be discouraged by everyone who has the best interests of the game at heart. There is no room for a third major league. There are not enough high-class players in the country to man a third league."

Johnson Will Investigate.

A Woman's Warning is Her Comb

When your comb looks like this take no chances. Use Woodbury's combination Hair Tonic at once. This famous hair grower was tested and improved for almost half a century before a bottle was sold through the stores. It is the only hair tonic made from the formula of the great dermatologist and saves the hair when all other preparations fail. It stops falling hair, cures dry or greasy dandruff and relieves itching, irritated or tender scalp.

You don't have to wait for results either, for the effect is noticed after the first application of Woodbury's Hair Tonic. It invigorates the hair roots, stimulates the circulation throughout the scalp and quickly produces a healthy growth of long beautiful hair.

WOODBURY'S HAIR TONIC
Is the favorite hair dressing of New York's most particular women. It does not discolor the hair but preserves its natural color, restores its lustre and increases its vitality. Now sold by all druggists or direct from the Woodbury Company, 47 West 34th Street, New York.

"LAW OF THE HOUSEHOLD"

Is summed up in the famous Weston Snowdrift Oil Cook Book.

It brings to every home the choicest recipes the world has developed for the epicure, and affords many an economical solution to knotty problems of the dining room and kitchen. And instead of hog fat and animal fats and greases, it brings into the family the nourishing, healthful influence of a pure, highly refined vegetable oil, unapproached for fine results in shortening, frying and salad dressings.

Rattles in Rancher's Bed.

Grayson Hinckley, of Piedmont, found himself in a veritable hotbed of rattlesnakes last Tuesday night, when on returning to the Grayson ranch after an eight-weeks' absence he found his cot occupied by a huge and beligerent rattler with a thriving young family. After an exciting ten minutes, during which a powderless battle was fought, young Hinckley came off victorious, although he preferred to spend the remainder of the night in a room at the far end of the building. Hinckley, who is a grandson of Judge Grayson and has been for some two or three years manager of the Grayson ranch, says that it was one of the most dangerous and exciting ten minutes of his life and one he would not care to repeat. And he has some good snake skins and eleven rattles to show in evidence.—San Francisco Call.

SERMON OF

her conversion, and she is not converted. I don't know what to make of it." Years afterwards, when I had gone to another pastorate, I heard that this woman was converted and visited the place and called upon her, and said, "I am very glad to hear you have been converted." She said, "Would you like to know how I was converted?" I said I would. "Do you remember preaching a sermon years ago on the Ten Virgins? When you preached that sermon I could not get it out of my mind. I felt I must take Christ that night, but I would not, and that sermon followed me, and I was converted years after by that sermon." The sermon I was sure she was going to be converted by. But I did not see it for years.

Sunday School Teacher.
"Another obstacle is a Sunday school teacher's influence and teaching. How many it brings to Christ! How many in this audience tonight were brought to Christ by the teaching of a faithful Christian man or woman in the Sunday school? I want to say to you Sunday school teachers that a faithful Sunday school teacher is one of God's best instruments on earth for the salvation of the perishing."

"In Mr. Moody's first Sunday school in Chicago he had a class of very unruly girls—nobody could manage them—but finally he found a young man who did manage them. One day this young man came into Mr. Moody's shop (it was before Mr. Moody went out of business) and said, 'Mr. Moody' (and he burst into tears). Mr. Moody said, 'What is the matter?' 'The doctor says I have consumption, and that I must go to California at once or die,' and he sobbed as if his heart would break."

Mr. Moody tried to comfort him, and said, "Suppose that is so, you have no occasion to feel so bad. You are a Christian."

"It is not that, Mr. Moody; I am perfectly willing to die. I am not afraid to die; but here I have had this Sunday school class these years and not one of them saved, and I am going off to leave them, every one unsaved," and he sobbed like a child."

Mr. Moody said, "Wait, I will get a carriage and we will drive around and visit them, and one by one you can lead them to Christ."

He took the pale teacher in the carriage and they drove around to the homes of the girls, and he talked to them about Christ until he was so tired that he had to be taken home, and the next day they went out again, and they went out every day until every one of these women but one was saved. Then they met for a prayer meeting before he went away. One after another led in prayer, too, and accepted Christ. He left by the early train the next morning, and Mr. Moody went down to the train to see him off. As they were waiting, one by one the girls dropped in, without any pre-arrangement, until every one of the young women were on the platform.

He spoke a few words of farewell to them, and as the train pulled out of the station he stood upon the back of the car with his finger pointing heavenward, telling his Sunday school class to meet him in heaven.

An Act of God.

"A kind word or an act of God often throws an obstacle in the path of sin. A lady friend of mine was standing in a window looking out on Bleeker street, New York. A drunkard came down the street. He had been a man in high circumstances; he had been the mayor of a southern city, but had gone down through drink, and was now a penniless drunkard on the streets of New York. He had made up his mind to commit suicide. He started for the river, but as he was going down Bleeker street he thought, 'I will go into a public

NO MORE CATARRH

Gilbert's Drug Store Has a Guaranteed Cure That Has Stood the Test of Time.

Catarrh cures come and catarrh cures go, but HYOMEI continues to cure catarrh and abolish its disgusting symptoms wherever civilization exists.

Every year the already enormous sales of this really scientific cure for catarrh grows greater, and the present year will show all records broken.

If you buy a HYOMEI outfit for $1.00 and hide it in a dark cupboard it won't cure your catarrh. If you breathe it daily as directed it will cure your catarrh or it won't cost you a cent, ask Gilbert's Drug Store.

If you have a hard rubber Hyomei Inhaler somewhere around the house, get it out and start at once to forever rid yourself of catarrh.

Gilbert's Drug Store will sell you a bottle of HYOMEI (liquid) for only 50 cents; start to breathe it and notice how quickly it clears out the air passages and makes the entire head feel fine.

HYOMEI used regularly will cure catarrh, coughs, colds, bronchitis or sore throat. A complete outfit including a hard rubber pocket inhaler costs $1.00. No stomach dosing. Just breathe it; it kills the germs, soothes and heals the inflamed membrane.

SPENT $3,000.00 BEFORE USING POSLAM

Cured of Eczema After Thirty-Seven Years—One Box Did More Good Than All Else.

"Mrs. Dodd suffered with eczema for thirty-seven years," writes Mr. William P. Dodd, Neva., Ind. "I spent over $3,000.00 in doctoring it, got me to try poslam. She is now cured. One fifty-cent box did her more good than all the doctoring I had done."

There is no doubt about the efficacy of poslam. It is probably the most widely recommended remedy available to the public, solely because of its remarkable power to heal affected skin, curing all eczemas, acne, tetter, scabies, itch, etc. Bacterial infections so prone to spread are checked at once. Itching stops and minor troubles such as pimples, undue redness, rashes, complexion blemishes, etc., go quickly when poslam is applied. Whenever the skin affix poslam should be used first before anything less certain is experimented with.

Poslam is sold in two sizes (trial, 50 cents; regular jar, $2) by all druggists, particularly Gilbert's and R. W. Walker Co. For free sample write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

house and have one more drink. I have spent a lot of money in that public house, and I can certainly stand the man off for one drink." He went in and asked for a drink, and told the man he had no money to pay for it, and the man came around from behind the bar and kicked him into the gutter—"You are welcome, men, as long as you have money."

"My friend, looking out of the window, saw the poor wretch picking himself up out of the gutter, and she crossed over and wiped the mud off with her handkerchief, and said, 'Come over in there. It is bright and warm and you will be welcome,' and the poor wretch went over and sat down behind the stove. The meeting began, and one after another gave their testimony, and when the meeting was over that lady came and spoke to him about his soul, and his heart was touched and he was saved. He got one position and then a better one, and finally was made manager of one of the largest publishing houses in the city of New York."

"One day he came to my friend and said: 'I have some friends down at a hotel; I want you to meet them.' She went to the hotel and he introduced her to a fine-looking, middle-aged woman and a fine-looking young lady, and said: 'This is my wife and daughter'—beautiful, refined, cultured ladies whom he had left and gone down to the verge of hell; but a kind act and a word of invitation to Christ had turned him out of the path to perdition, when he was within one step of hell, into the path that leads to glory. Oh, let us go as the missionaries of God's grace and block the path of sinful men and women with kindly deeds and thus turn them to righteousness and to God."

Holy Spirit's Work.

"Another obstacle that God puts in the path of sin and ruin is the Holy Spirit of his work. How strange it is? You and I have experienced it. When we were right in the midst of a carousal a strange feeling came into our heart—an unrest, a dissatisfaction with the life we were living, a longing for something better, memories of home, church, mother, Bible and God."

"A man one night was playing cards at a table. He was a man wholly given up to the world, belonged to one of the noble families but not a nobleman himself, and connected with members of the nobility—a wild, reckless English spendthrift, and there he sat playing cards, and suddenly the voice of God's spirit spoke in his heart. He thought he was about to die. He sprang up from the table, threw down his cards, rushed to his room. There was someone in the room. He thought at first 'It won't do to pray while the maid is in the room.' But he was so much in earnest that he did not mind anybody. He dropped down by his bed and called upon God for Christ's sake to forgive his sins."

"That man was Brownlow North, who did such a great work for God in Ireland and Scotland in '59 and '60. Oh, friends, listen. Last night as you were in some den of infamy, there came into your heart a wretchedness, a sense of self-disgust, a longing for something better, a calling to a purer life—what was it? God's Spirit. As you sit in this place here tonight (all over this building) there is a stirring in your heart, and you are saying to yourself, 'I wonder if I had better not become a Christian tonight?' Almost a determination to stand up as soon as the invitation is given out. What is it? God sending His Spirit to blockade the road to hell. Listen, men, listen to God's Spirit tonight. Yield; accept Christ."

Cross of Christ.

"One other obstacle that God has put in the road as a blockade in the path to hell—that is the cross of Christ. No man can get very far down the path of sin and ruin until he sees looming before him only the cross. On that cross there hangs a Man, the Son of Man, the Son of God. There you see Him hanging with the nails in his hands and feet, and a voice says, 'It was for you. I bore this for you. I died for you.' Oh, men, in the pathway of every man and woman here tonight stands the cross with Christ upon it, and if you go out of this building to continue in sin you will have to go over the cross and over the crucified Son of God."

"I heard of a Godly man who had a worthless son. That son was so anxious to make money that he was determined to go into that infamous business in which there is lots of money, but which no self-respecting man will undertake, the liquor business. Any man who is willing to coin money out of rum selling will coin money out of the tears of broken-hearted wives, out of the groans and sighs of drunkards' sons and daughters, out of the hearts' blood of their fellow men, for this infernal rum-selling is sending thousands of men every year to premature graves. This infernal rum traffic is causing more sorrow, more ruined homes, more wretchedness than perhaps anything else on earth, and every publican, every barman, every barmaid, and every professed Christian that holds stock in breweries or distilleries, every one of you is a party to the crime. You have plenty to say about the rum-seller and the bartender. I would like you to know how he is any worse than you professing Christians who own brewery stocks. He gets the abuse, and you the money, and you will get the eternal damnation unless you get out of the infernal business. Well, this man so far lost his self-respect that he was going to open a public-house, and his father was ashamed. He pled with him. He said, 'My boy, you bear an honored name which has never been disgraced before. Don't disgrace it by putting it up over a public-house.' But the son was so bent on money-making that he would not listen to his father's voice. The day came to open the public-house. The father was about the first on hand. He stood outside the door of that public-house, and every man that approached the door he stepped up to him and told him of the drink, warned him of the consequences of entering such a place as that, and, one after another, they turned away. The son looked out of the window to see why he was getting no customers. He saw his father outside turning his customers away. He came outside and said, 'Father, go home. You are ruining my business.' He said, 'I cannot help it, my boy. I won't have my name dishonored by this business, and if you are bent on going on with it, I will stand here and warn every man that comes to enter your door.' Finally the son lost his temper. He struck his father. I tell you, friends, this rum business takes the humanity out of people—he struck his old father in the face. The father turned to him without the least anger. He said, 'My son, you can strike me if you will, but no man shall enter your public-house unless he goes over my dead body.' Men, listen! No man or woman here tonight will ever enter hell unless by going over the dead body of Jesus Christ. No man or woman here tonight can go out of this place refusing Christ, persisting in sin, without trampling under foot the form of Him who was crucified on the cross of Cavalry for you. Oh, men, God has piled the obstacles so high in his patient love! Don't try to surmount them tonight. Turn back. Turn out of the path of sin, turn into the path of faith in Jesus Christ. Turn now."

It's Me For Olive Tablets!

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel but olive oil—a healing, soothing laxative itself. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets.

They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

It is easy to compel the bowels and liver activity for a time with calomel and nasty, sickening, griping castor oil, but the after effects are dangerous, and the real cause of the trouble is often not even touched.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all. They never gripe.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless.

Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them. All druggists sell Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets in convenient pocket packages.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel but olive oil—a healing, soothing laxative itself. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets.

They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

It is easy to compel the bowels and liver activity for a time with calomel and nasty, sickening, griping castor oil, but the after effects are dangerous, and the real cause of the trouble is often not even touched.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all. They never gripe.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless.

Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them. All druggists sell Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets in convenient pocket packages.

at the present time. This is a large figure, but it is probable that it is insignificant compared with the figures of the species as yet undiscovered. The world of the lower animals is teeming. In 1905 the naturalist Sharper listed a quarter of a million insects, and expressed the belief that a quarter of a million was only a tenth part of the number of insects on earth.—Harper's Weekly.

LOS ANGELES DYNAMITE CLEW

TWO MEN STAYED 10 DAYS AT ARGONAUT HOTEL.

Knows Sweetheart of One of the Men but Refuses to Divulge Her Name.

WOMAN WHO HEARD PLOTTING

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—Further information regarding movements of two of the three suspects who purchased dynamite at Giant, which is believed to have been used in blowing up the Los Angeles Times building, was secured yesterday by Los Angeles detectives now at work in this city. The two men, "James A. Bryce" and "F. A. Perry," are known to have been guests for about ten days at the Argonaut Hotel, here, and it now develops that prior to registering at the Argonaut, Bryce was a lodger at the home of Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll, having secured a room there September 4.

While at that place, according to Mrs. Ingersoll, Perry called on him, sometimes as often as three times a day. Loud talk issuing from Bryce's room, said Mr. Ingersoll, led her to believe that the two men were plotting against some one. She says they frequently mentioned dynamite.

Mrs. Ingersoll also stated that she was acquainted with a sweetheart of Bryce's, and it was through this young woman that he happened to go to the Ingersoll house to room. Mrs. Ingersoll refused to divulge the girl's name.

Bryce told Mrs. Ingersoll that he was a printer from Chicago, but that he had just come from Los Angeles, where he had been for two or three days. Perry, the squint-eyed man, is thought to be the man who rented the launch Peerless, in which the dynamite was transported from Giant.

Another Body Recovered.
Los Angeles, Oct. 14.—Buried beneath tons of debris, a man's body was found yesterday morning on the second floor of the Baumhardt Printing company plant, adjoining the wrecked Times building. The find was made while workmen were removing burned paper and rubbish. The body has not yet been identified. This makes 22 known dead in the Times disaster.

VANDALS

BREAK INTO FLOREAL HALL AT FAIR GROUNDS.

Small Boys Seen Loitering About Are Believed to Be Guilty Ones.

Vandals, who are believed to have been boys, broke into Floreal Hall at the West End fair grounds Wednesday and also effected entrance to the office on the west end of the grand stand.

The robbery was discovered yesterday afternoon by Secretary Rodney Davis, of the Paducah Fair association, and men will be posted on the grounds to prevent a second visit by the thieves. Entrance of the hall was effected through the top by tearing away the wire screening. Much of the colored bunting used in the decorations was taken and the rest left scattered over the hall. The vandals went through the desk and cash drawer in the secretary's office but as there was nothing of any value left nothing was taken. Four small boys are said to have been seen in the vicinity of the grounds for several days. Their visit has resulted in a good deal of damage being done.

To see how eager men are to marry, you would think that a fellow could not keep himself poor without a woman to help him do it.
